

Pakistanis visit USA for education or earning livelihood, they don't hesitate to do odd jobs like dish washing, helper on filling stations etc. so we should promote a technical culture here in our country.

Around 40% of school students don't take admission in colleges. So a person who is having a recognized technical degree can earn his living bet-the free and quality education is the basic human right of every Pakistani. The Govt should take active part to fulfill her responsibilities towards society. Our teachers should be well paid. Because if the teacher is not contented, the output of educational institutions will be suffered badly. This is a time, when federal budget is a final stage of prepa-

We are reading a lot in our schools, but this education is unable to change the condition of the students as well as the state. Let me say, we are one of the most indisciplined nations in the world.

ration, the Govt should increase the educational budget. Now we are in 21st century, the world has become a global village. The awareness is increasing in people's mind regarding their basic rights. We use to spend a major portion of our budget on debt servicing and on military. Now the debt servicing has been rescheduled. We are no longer to pay our debt installments for some period; moreover we have nukes and missiles. So we need to cut short our defense expenditures. We have been giving priority to military needs over education, health facilities and other amenities since 1947, now this is time to address the need of people for home the Pakistan was made. We read in newspapers that all newly elected provincial Governments had purchased new fleet of luxury cars. This is not only the misuse, it is abuse of powers. We know that if a person can afford to contest in election, he can afford a luxury car for his personal use. We are increasing a the non-development expenditures. this is a shameful thing.

If our Government is sincere in her commitment to make this country a progressive one, then their prime focus should be on education. If she doesn't perform her responsibilities honestly, the history will not forgive them.

ter. There is no debate on the importance of arts subjects like Urdu literature, English literature, Psychology etc. but there is also a need to design the college curriculum as well. We are still forced to learn subjects like Pak Studies, which tells us about the constitution of 1956, which is no longer required. In each art group a technical certification of computer, or other engineering trade should be
