What is scientific spiritualism?

Scientific spiritualism is not only belief and practice but is a modus operandi of Deen. The belief is based on human reasoning faculty and common sense. The practice has its locus standi on the laws of nature. The modus operandi has reference to empiricism, induction and love for mankind.

The belief is that nothing in Universe is without a design and purpose. Consequently human reason has its own significance. Human common sense is a major product of human reasoning.

Human reason and common sense have never denied and cannot deny the existence of a visible world. The laws governing visible and invisible existence, the perfected designs found in all types of existence, the cycles of cosmic emanations and universal evolutions, the formation of the members of atomic family out of mass-less, space-less, dimension-less, existence-less nominal ineffable spirits of matter do prove beyond all doubt and in conformity with human common sense and the laws of logic and mathematics that Rational Causa Causus, Omniscient, all powerful, but not a despotic whimsical God exist. Such an existence is not bound by space-time dimensions. Nor is it limited by the limitations of the conception of being or non-being. Entire material phenomena are the result of interactions among the members of atomic family. These members of atomic family are the tinniest possible particles of matter, which possess mass and dimensions. They come into existence through emanations of a category, which cannot be termed as materialistic. It is so because this category exists on a plan, which neither exists nor non-exists. It is the category of neither being nor non-being. It possesses neither mass nor dimensions nor possessions. Our language is limited and therefore it cannot explain this category vividly in positive terms. It can only negate all the existing attributes used for matter.

term for this category can be used as a spiritualistic category. Mathematically, this spiritualistic category can be termed as zero. Euclidean geometry can assign dimension zero to this category. Einsteinian dimension of time is also zero. Existence and being admit such a category which exists neither, nor does it non-exist. We admit it. We cannot explain otherwise, the formation of the members of atomic family and the entire phenomenon of matter. Without admission of the Spiritualistic category, the entire phenomenon is reduced to absurdity. Conceive it not and the conception of quarks, neutrino and electron is reduced to nullity.

We feel and conceive a plan from where, all matter emanates, but we cannot explain it in words. With a proper Spiritualistic training of feeling and transformation of oneself into spirits of matter, which neither exist nor non-exist, one can achieve a direct communion with the spirits of matter: in themselves emanations of Ultimate Reality, Causa Causus. Those who attained this communion have been a few in past, but in the fast approaching age of Aquarius, a great number of the members of humanity shall attain this communion. The words like energy, essence of energies etc. cannot cover or explain the existence of Causa Causus. Even the word "existence" presupposes certain qualifications or attributes which are again limited in their context and texture. Therefore this word of existence about all-powerful Causa Causus is used with caution, and also denied with caution.

The existence of human race as homo sapiens has its own teleology. The constitution of human individual personality out of (i) tiny genetical material like DNA, RNA. Molecules; (ii) Cosmic impacts through limitless media like cosmic rays, electromagnetic shifting of atmospheric zones, zodiacal and benefic planetary ephemeris; (iii) social conditions; (iv) impacts of geophysics and atmosphere; and (v) the entire human experience does suggest to man/woman possessing common sense, that such a constitution has not taken place in a vacuum. None on the earth belongs to family, tribe, nationality, nation, human race, or rational beings. He/she belongs to the cosmos. He/she is cosmic universal. Cosmos with its purposeful modus operandi forms a single individual micro-organism and also macro-organism of entire personality of human race and rational entities. The very evolution of life and intelligence on planet earth cannot be conceived without the existence of an ever expanding limitless universe with cosmic temperature at present at 3 degrees K or -370 degrees C. imagine only one degree higher i.e. four degrees above absolute zero in terms of cosmic temperature and the entire life is evaporated, one degree lesser and the life is freed.

The human race and other rational categories of existence, as a whole, and the individual as a visible unit of the whole has a responsibility. The idea of responsibility has no better advocate than human reason and common sense itself. None can live, develop, evolve and generate in a social vacuum without a primitive natural belief in responsibility. The fact of free will is the locus standi of the principles of responsibility. The visible contradiction between the conception of free will and cosmic determinism is resolved in the first principles of scientific spiritualism as brought from the radio-active caves of Gilgit, Baltistan, Laddakh, Kailas and Hunza.

Religion in its pure form is Deen. It was taught by Prophets. Later on religion got distorted. The distorted or interpolated religion had its dogma, practice and hierarchy.

The hierarchy is mundane and has a vested interest. The vested interest and succession for hierarchy hissed out competition. The competition finally shaped itself into sects which got divided into the subsect through the same process. Interpolated Deen with its faces-hundreds of thousands indeed-has been spreading venom into the organism of human society. It has made man and woman suffers and the vested interest and desire for worldly powers has created sectarianism which is evil in itself. Deen discouraged sectarianism, but interpolated Deen or Religion encouraged it. A great majority of ginnies have harmed each other, through black magic which is evil, per se. few remaining Atlanteans have retained purity. Majority of the Atlantean race perished millions of years ago due to their irresponsible acts against the scheme of nature. These facts have been explained in the secrets of secret doctrine as brought from the radio-active caves of Gilgit, Baltistan, Laddakh, Kailas and Hunza.

Sects, sub-sects and schools of religion are nothing but interpolated Deen. They retain certain ideas of Deen according to the native needs and requirements. To attain pure Deen as communicated by prophets one has to discard secerianism, religiosity and hatred. In the case of homo sapiens, one has to distil religions into the distillery of universal love for mankind. The tenets and teachings of Deen create love for mankind, without any consideration of colour caste or creed.

It is the pure Deen and the message of Prophets. That which encourages hatred for mankind is interpolated Deen and needs total rejection. Practice as communicated by Prophets, as a Deen, has its source in the laws of nature. Living in conformity with nature is the sine qua non of universal code of ethics.
